

DRINKS MENU

WE ARE SCOTLAND'S OLDEST GIN BAR

Our drinks menu is a journey with gin. Over fourteen years we have based everything on helping guests find drinks by flavour and style. This key ethos doesn't waver.

While gin is integral to the bar, the whole team are also spirits fans. For the first time we now have a chapter dedicated to Whisky as well as Scottish & world rums. If you are a wine or beer fan, great so are we, and they're covered too.

CHAPTER TWO

BOTANICAL & JUNIPER FORWARD GINS

GIN

Juniper spirits in Scotland are historic and we have enjoyed them for centuries. We have references to juniper medicinal spirits being used outside Edinburgh in the 11th century to "cure" ailments and illnesses so as a country we are one of the earliest (if not the earliest!) recorded users of juniper in drinks. The market for gin in Scotland has grown massively in the current gin craze (2008-present). Scotland to this day produces and bottles around 70-75% of all UK gin volume covering some of the biggest brands like Tanqueray and Hendricks. This also goes the other way to small micro producers just like us! Our menu is divided by flavours and has a Scottish leaning but with great gins from around the world in each section too - Sláinte

CHAPTER THREE

DRY | SEASIDE & COSTAL | SPICY | HIGH STRENGTH

DRY

Dry gin is an interesting area as often these could just be in the juniper forward section. The reason we've split them is they also hint at other botanicals too.

SPICY, ORIENTAL & TEA

CHAPTER FOUR

HERBAL | FLORAL | BERRY FRUITS

SAVOURY & HERBAL

Gin doesn't have to be fruity, in fact it's often at its best dry and a bit more savoury. These gins use botanicals which are more herbal and savoury.

FLORAL

Floral notes in gin are very common, gins use a huge variety of botanicals but floral can be provided by almost anything from elderflower, apple and lavender to heather and even further afield. These gins tend to lend themselves to more interesting tonics and lemon

OLD TOM & CASK AGED

Even a couple of years ago getting any Old Tom gin was very hard but this classic style has rebounded. These gins are slightly sweeter tasting (not actually sweet, just not as dry as traditional gins!). They are bold, juniper led, interesting and a category we love! We've also put cask aged gins here as aging gin was often done around the same time Old Tom was first popular in the 1700's.

- Persie Nose Old Tom 46% | Perthshire | £4.75 + garnish with ginger, serve with Fever-Tree tonic
- Mackintosh Pineapple Old Tom 41.5% | Caithness | £4.95 + garnish with lemon and Fever-Tree tonic

- Makar Mulberry Oak Aged 43% | Glasgow, Scotland | £4.50 + Serve neat over ice with dehydrated orange

BRAMBLE

Fruity gin, while possibly not purist, it's hard not to love what these do. They are rich, sometime sweeter and tend to mix exceptionally well. If you are a gin fan they're a wonderful change.

- Boe Scottish Bramble 43% | Stirling | £4.50 + garnish with lemon, serve with Fever-Tree tonic
- Tanqueray Royale 41.3% | Cameron Bridge | £4.50 + garnish with Lemon and Fever-Tree Mediterranean

UNIQUE BASE

Almost all gin is made from Grain Neutral Spirit (GNS or NGS) which is purchased from a 3rd party then flavoured with botanicals by the producer. The unique thing about the brands below is they are "grain to glass" or "field to bottle" this means they make every step of the gin themselves from raw ingredients. If you'd like to learn more just book onto one of our gin tours - www.fiftysixnorth.co.uk
